Video title: Need a boost to get out of your comfort zone?

Video length: 2:46 min.

[00:02] Hi everyone! This is Coach Keren, again!

[00:03] It's Thursday and it's almost weekend I bet you're excited. I just need to remind you about something really important and this is to believe in yourself. I know this is not the first time that you've heard of such advice but, really as cliché as it may sound it's really worth it to give yourself the chance to explore the opportunities that you've been missing out just because you don't believe in your own personality or your own skills, your own qualities there are tons of other people who are less qualified less skilled but, they are already doing the things that you've been dreaming of doing, right? And the only difference between you and them is that they believe in themselves they gave themselves the chance so ,please do the same give yourself a chance to grow to get out of your comfort zone and explore, all right.

[01:03] Having that confidence in you will take you to places that you've never been, it will allow you to do the things you've been dreaming of ever since so, please, please think about this your missing out a lot of opportunities just because you don't believe in your own qualities, in your own skills and you're not giving yourself the chance that it deserves. Everyone deserves to explore and to grow, all right? So, please spend the day today on planning on how you can start moving forward and how you can increase your experience by just increasing that belief in your own skills in your own self, all right.
